To whom it may concern:

Urban Outfitters, Inc.'s [URBN] welcomes the opportunity to express our thoughts regarding URBN's partnership with DBS Audio Systems, Inc. [DBS]. The URBN/DBS partnership began in 2007 after moving into our new headquarters and corporate campus at the Naval Business Center in Philadelphia. After providing support for various corporate and charity events held in our new facility, we engaged DBS to design and install a complex sound system in our largest (80,000 square foot) building on campus. This turnkey installation utilizes Meyer Sound components and is used for general playback during normal business hours, as well as an event space.

Ten years later, DBS continues to provide professional, turnkey solutions for a variety of spaces within our corporate campus and across the country, ranging from retail locations, restaurants, and event and meeting spaces. URBN values the professionalism, creativity and 24/7 support that Dave Brotman and his team bring to URBN projects. Each system is meticulously installed and blends with the aesthetic that URBN creates.

As URBN moves forward with other unique projects, we look forward to continuing our partnership and recommend DBS Audio Systems for any installation, large or small.
